Lily Chang started her tenure as a law clerk with the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit on June 4, 2007

Lily is the sole law clerk assigned to the North County courthouse. Primarily, she handles matters in probate, guardianship and family but also works with the civil judges at the Central courthouse on appeals.

Recently Lily and other members of the Palm Beach County Bar's Young Lawyer's Section volunteered at Café Joshua, a restaurant for the homeless. John Whittles, President of the Palm Beach County Bar Young Lawyers Section, spearheaded the group's involvement.

The guests at Café Joshua have the privilege of eating at the restaurant because they are taking steps to learn vocational skills in a structured program. As a volunteer, Lily serves as wait staff and sits with the guests. There is a certified chef who prepares a healthful menu with a variety of choices in several courses.

Some of the attorneys who attended also gave practical legal presentations afterwards to the attendees.

Lily said, "I thought it would be an ordinary soup kitchen, but the individuals who came to the meal were well-spoken and respectful. Entire families with young children were there. I could tell it took some pride-swallowing for many of them to come. However, the restaurant helps restore some sense of dignity during a tough time. It was a pleasure to serve them because they are all working hard to get their lives back on track."

CONFERENCE OF CIRCUIT COURT JUDGES 2008

The Conference of Circuit Court Judges was held this year on August 4th-6th in Fort Lauderdale, Florida.

Florida Statute 26.55, requires that conference members meet regularly to:

- 1. Consider and make recommendations concerning the betterment of the judicial system of the state and its various parts;*
- 2. Consider and make recommendations concerning the improvement of rules and methods of procedure and practice in the several courts; and*
- 3. Report to the Supreme Court such findings and recommendations as the conference may have with reference thereto.*

Not only is this a wonderful opportunity for Florida's Circuit Judges to receive continuing education but it is also their opportunity to make recommendations to the legislature regarding any "defects in the laws of this state." (F.S. 26.55(3)(b)).

The Conference is attended annually by as many as 400 circuit judges. Many of the circuit judges from the 15th Judicial Circuit, Palm Beach County attended.

At this year's meeting, Judge Peter Blanc was voted as Chair-elect, so he will become the Conference Chair next year.

In addition to calling meetings and appointing committees, it is the responsibility of the Conference Chair to report conference recommendations for improvement of the judicial system to the President of the Senate and the Speaker of the House.

SOUTH COUNTY COURTHOUSE

Over the Fourth of July weekend 2008, the South County Courthouse closed and moved into the 75,000 square foot new addition located on the south side of the existing courthouse.

The courthouse reopened Monday, July 7 in the addition connected directly to the existing courthouse built in 1989, which will be renovated in the final phase of the project.

Judge Donald Hafele was pleased with the move and said, "Thanks to the moving team led by Don Droddy, the transition was very smooth. The new courthouse is a great place to work and very much state of the art. I'm glad to be among the first judges to preside here."

Magistrates Diane Kirigin and Tom Baker said, "We love the new Hearing Rooms. They are configured much more like a traditional courtroom."

When the final phase is complete some offices will move once again, however, the judiciary, courtrooms, hearing rooms and law library will all stay in this new addition.

SOUTH COUNTY CENTRAL DIGITAL RECORDING GOES LIVE

The South County Centralized Digital Recording System became a reality on July 7, 2008. This newly installed system records audio and video of all seven courtrooms and hearing rooms in the building.

“This system produces enormous savings for the Fifteenth” said Rick Hussey, Court Operations Manager. All seven courts are monitored and controlled by one Digital Court Reporter. On opening day, For The Record (FTR) representative Ken Cook, was present along with Les Davis, Glenn Reed and Matt Dreiss from Court Technology and Digital Court Reporter Susan Permuy. The first day went off without a hitch.

The system in place is able to expand to the next phase of court construction on the north side of the courthouse.

Anyone wishing to request a CD or transcript from South County may do so in writing to Court Reporting Services, 205 North Dixie Highway, Suite 5.1400, West Palm Beach, Florida 33401.

For more information please contact Rick Hussey, 561 355-6398.

COUNTY AGREES TO FUND TRAFFIC HEARING OFFICER PROGRAM

On September 8, 2008, the Palm Beach County Board of County Commissioners voted to continue funding the Traffic Hearing Officer program. Since 1991, Traffic Hearing Officers have presided over non-criminal traffic infractions in Palm Beach County.

The hearing officers resolve approximately 3,000 tickets per month which assists the county court judges by providing them the time necessary to preside over the more serious citations and misdemeanor cases. The public is served by this program as it enables those who receive traffic citations to appear at a multitude of locations (either in person or via video) throughout the county instead of having to travel to the main courthouse in West Palm Beach.

The local law enforcement community also benefits by this program in that the Traffic Hearing Officers have the time to preside over pretrial hearings which resolve the majority of traffic cases thereby enabling the officers to remain on patrol instead of spending time in court.

For the past several years, this worthwhile program has been funded by the State of Florida, but due to recent budget cuts, the Traffic Hearing Officer program was slated for extinction. The Board of County Commissioners recognized the importance of maintaining this worthwhile program and agreed to provide funding to continue the program through June 30, 2009.

The Traffic Hearing Officers sworn in will join sixteen other Hearing Officers who preside over traffic infraction dockets throughout Palm Beach County.

On Friday, July 11, 2008, Lloyd Routman, Ivonne Reynolds, Robin Scher, Cathy Chimera, Mackenson Bernard, and Carol DeGraffenreidt (pictured above) were sworn in by Chief Judge Kathleen Kroll to serve as Civil Traffic Hearing Officers.

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION

The Dispute Resolution Center conducted its 17th Annual Conference for Mediators and Arbitrators from August 28 – August 30, 2008. Fortunately, the entire mediation staff of the Fifteenth Circuit was able to attend in Orlando along with some 800 other mediators and arbitrators from other circuits.

The conference, as always, was well organized and extremely instructive. The workshops provided a variety of educational materials and lectures.

Laverne Mosley, Mediator, and Alan Kahn, Director, participated in an all day meeting of Alternative Dispute Resolution directors and Trial Court Administrators. The meeting was devoted to the changes to mediation funding at the trial court level. The new fee structure now provides that the portion of filing fees collected by the Clerk's office throughout the State, be paid into the Mediation and Arbitration Trust Fund and be apportioned collectively to fund mediation throughout twenty judicial circuits.

Fifteenth Judicial Circuit mediators, Bill Moreno and George Polacek, volunteered as Proctors for several workshops thereby earning a waiver of the registration fees and hotel costs and Danni Hoefling rounded out the full staff in attendance at the function.

The Standards for Alternative Dispute Resolution Services in Florida's Trial Courts, as recommended by the Commission on Trial Court Performance and Accountability, was reviewed in depth at the conference. The ADR office will be implementing all of the standards set out in this proposal and approved by the Trial Court Budget Commission.

All of the staff mediators in attendance will receive Continuing Mediation Education credits, required for their respective re-certification for the ensuing two year cycle.

Attendance at the program will enable the mediators to deliver more beneficial service to the Courts and the litigants.

For more information on Alternative Dispute Resolution please contact Alan Kahn, Acting Director, at 355-4512.

The ADR office of the 15th Circuit has also increased the number of Juvenile Dependency cases to be mediated on a weekly basis.

Effective, October 6, 2008, 20 mediation time slots per week will be allocated to Dependency cases.

CRIMINAL COURT PROGRAM

CORRECTIONS TASK FORCE

The Task Force is currently researching alternatives to incarceration as the jail population continues to increase. Topics for discussion included: jail population report, juvenile detention report, pretrial services report and expansion of House Arrest/Ankle Monitoring Program.

Chairman Doug Duncan established a subcommittee to determine the possibility of expanding the House Arrest/Ankle Monitor Program.

UNIFIED FAMILY COURT

DEPENDENCY SUMMIT

Despite the tough economic times, the Florida Department of Children and Families hosted the annual statewide 2008 Dependency Summit. The summit took place August 27 - 29, at the J.W. Marriott in Orlando. It was an exciting opportunity for child welfare professionals throughout the state to share best practices and continue the advancement of child welfare practice in Florida. At the Summit, child protective investigators, community-based care administration and case management staff as well as judges, general magistrates, children's legal services attorneys, law enforcement, medical and mental health providers and child advocates joined together to benefit from increased coordination, communication and creativity amongst their fields.

There was a variety of representation from Palm Beach County, including DCF Circuit Administrator Perry Borman; Children's Services Council Chief Executive Officer Tana Ebbole; Child & Family Connections Chief Executive Officer Judith Warren; The Haven Executive Director Don Stewart, in addition to many other welfare professionals. Representing Court Administration were: Chief Judge Kathleen Kroll, Judge Ronald Alvarez, Judge Peter Blanc, Judge Karen Martin, Magistrate Leonard Hanser, Kathy Sanchez, Cristy Altaro and Gabriel Munoz.

The statewide summits began in August 1997 and continued through 2004, while regional summits were held from 2004 through 2006. In 2007, the Department reinstated the statewide summit with more than 1,500 professionals in attendance. We look forward to continued events like this to increase interagency collaboration throughout the State!

DEPENDENCY SUMMIT

VIDEO JUDICIAL REVIEWS

WHY...

At the 2007 Dependency Summit Circuit break-out session, an idea was proposed concerning youth appearing by video at Judicial Reviews (JRs). This was intended to encourage youth to be more involved in the dependency process, however they always retain the right to appear in person if preferred.

HOW IT CAME TO BE...

A committee was composed of representatives from the School District, Case managers, Court Administration, Social service agencies, Court and School District technology staff, Directors of licensed group homes, Guardian Ad Litem's (GAL), Legal Aid Society, Department of Children and Families, Private dependency attorneys and Regional Conflict Counsel. Several meetings were held to discuss the proposal and the committee was in full support of the idea.

THE PROCESS...

For the pilot, youth were selected from one licensed group home, who all attended the same high school. After working with technology staff, the youth came to the office of an Assistant Principal where the equipment (computer, monitor, camera attached to the computer screen) had been set up. During the JRs, the only individuals present were the youth and GAL. The youth's image and voice were broadcast into the JR hearing room and the youth was able to see and hear everyone present. The goal was to provide the youth the same experience as if he/she had been physically present at the JR.

The 15th Judicial Circuit Juvenile Courts display.

THE RESULTS...

The pilot began in April and the feedback received is that the youth thought the process was “pretty cool”. It did not appear that the technology inhibited the youth's participation at all. Overall, the loss of class time was much shorter than if the youth had been transported to the courthouse for the hearing. Other advantages include: reduction in the amount of staff time spent in transport, as well as a reduction in risk by not driving the youth 25 miles to the courthouse and then back to the group home. There was also no interference with after-school activities.

This program is expected to expand to include an additional group home in late September. Where it goes after that will be up to the committee and available resources. The program helps send the message to the youth that the dependency process is something that is done for them, not to them and to encourage the youth to know it is their statutory right to be engaged in this process, and indeed, the Court values their opinions.

State-wide Budget Cuts

The State-wide budget cuts that became effective on July 1, 2008 had a serious impact in the Fifteenth Judicial Circuit. Sixteen positions were permanently lost from the staff complement. In addition, funding for the Mediation Department was transferred from General Revenue to the Mediation Trust Fund.

In anticipation of the layoff, six vacant positions were reserved and used to contribute to the dollar target of $767,000 that the Circuit had to remove from its salary costs. Ten additional positions were cut, resulting in loss of staff from Court Administration, from the Magistrates' complement, from Unified Family Court and from the Law Clerk group. The "due process" positions, those in Court Reporting and Court Interpreting, were spared in this reduction.

The process of reassigning the duties of employees who were lost has been difficult and remains under close review. The strain is exacerbated by the subsequent departure of other staff that cannot be replaced due to the ongoing hiring freeze. The goal of maintaining service levels to the public remains paramount during these difficult budget times.

Having so recently experienced the pain of the July layoff, it was an enormous relief when the Office of the State Courts Administrator (OSCA) announced that additional layoffs anticipated to be announced on September 2, 3008 had been canceled. Through the cooperative efforts of Chief Justice Peggy Quince, OSCA and Florida legislators, a holdback in funds for the second quarter of this fiscal year has been averted. Circuits are still very restricted in their spending levels but grateful that staffing levels will be preserved.

Of course, the current economic downturn is being felt throughout many sectors in the state. If any employees are feeling overwhelmed and wish to inquire about psychological or other counseling services, a new no-cost Employee Assistance Plan is available to help. Please call the referral line at 800-860-2058 to be scheduled with a local service provider, or go online at www.floridaeap.com. All State employees and their family members, whether living in the same household or not, are eligible for this service.
