ADA Accommodations Provided by Florida Courts

Pursuant to Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act the Circuit will make reasonable modifications in policies, practices and procedures; furnish auxiliary aids and services; and afford program accessibility through the provisions of accessible facilities, the relation of services or programs or the provision of services at alternative sites, as appropriate and necessary.

Examples of auxiliary aids or services that the State Court System may provide for qualified individuals with disabilities include:

- Assisted Listening Devices
- Sign Language Interpreters
- Oral Interpreters
- Real-Time Transcription Services
- Providing Materials in Large Print, Braille, Diskette, or Audio Tapes
   Reader Services
- Sound Amplifying Headsets

Accommodations that are granted by the State Courts are made at no cost to qualified individuals with disabilities.

Aids/Services Courts Cannot Administratively Grant as ADA Accommodation

Example of aids or services the Florida State Court System cannot provide as an accommodation under Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act include:

- Transportation to the Courthouse
- Legal Counsel or Advice
- Personal Devices such as a Wheelchair or Hearing Aid
- Personal Services such as Medical or Attendant Care
- A Modification of a Policy or an auxiliary Aid or Service that would result in a fundamental alteration in the nature of the Program or Service, or would result in an undue burden
- Document filing

Additionally, the courts cannot administratively grant, as an ADA accommodation, requests that impact court procedures within a specific case. Request for an extension of time, a change of venue, or participation in court proceedings by telephone or videoconferencing must be submitted by written motion to the presiding judge as part of the case. The judge may consider an individual's disability, along with other relevant factors, ingraining or denying the motion.

Furthermore, the court cannot exceed the law in granting a request for an accommodation. For example, the court cannot extend the statute of limitations for filing an action because someone claims that he or she could not make it to court on time due to a disability, nor can the court modify the terms of agreements among parties as an ADA accommodation.

Finally, the ADA does not require the court system to take any action that would fundamentally alter the nature of court programs, services, or activities, or that would impose an undue financial or administrative burden on the courts.

Documentation of the Need for Auxiliary Aids and Services

If an individual has a disability that is not obvious, or when it is not readily apparent how a requested accommodation relates to an individual's impairment, it may be necessary for the court to require the individual to provide documentation form a qualified health care provider in order for the court to fully and fairly evaluate the accommodation request. These information requests will be limited to documentation that (1) establishes the existence of a disability; (2) identifies the individual's functional limitations; and (3) describes how the requested accommodation addresses those limitations. Any cost to obtain such documentation is the obligation of the person requesting the accommodation.
